

Indian Institute for Human Settlements

Announces an Institute on

Re-Imagining the World-Class City

Bengaluru, 3rd to 9th January 2011

IIHS announces a week-long Institute on Re-Imagining the World-Class City. Bringing together an inter-disciplinary Indian and international faculty of academics and practitioners, the Institute will enable participants to engage with the political, economic, ecological, infrastructural, social and institutional challenges of the 'World-Class City.' Through an engagement with real sites and problems, participants will re-imagine what globalising Indian cities and regions could develop into over the next decade and ask what it will take to get there.

Eligibility | Participants from all disciplines can apply. Preference will be given to applicants from technology, planning, design, management, law, social sciences and environmental sciences. Applicants should either be pursuing or have completed Bachelors or Masters degrees or be professionals with relevant work experience.

Deadlines | Last date for submitting applications is 30th November and for payment of charges is 11th December.

Charges | ₹ 9,000 for working professionals and ₹ 5000 for candidates pursuing under-graduate/ graduate degrees. Need-based limited partial funding is available for those pursuing under-graduate/ graduate degrees only. Candidates can avail of residential facilities, if needed, at additional cost.
