

World Bank Assisted Watershed Management Project - Neeranchal
Government of India
Ministry of Rural Development
Department of Land Resources

Advertisement for Engaging Experts on Contractual Basis

The Department of Land Resources (DoLR) with a view to enhance effectiveness of the Integrated Watershed Management Program (IWMP), is preparing a Watershed Management Project 'Neeranchal' with the assistance of the World Bank. The objectives inter alia include supporting the introduction of more holistic watershed planning for better program convergence with other related programmes at village level; strengthening quality oversight arrangements to improve sustainability of investments; building required human resource and institutional capacities at DoLR, State watershed agencies and other stakeholders.

The DoLR, with this end in view, is setting up a Project Implementation Unit consisting of following domain experts:

S.NO	Name of the position	No.of Position
1	Institution and Capacity Building Expert	One
2	National Watershed/Natural Resource Management Expert	One
3	Focus States Implementation Support Expert	One
4	Financial Management Expert	One
5	MIS-Monitoring & Evaluation and Learning Expert	One
6	Procurement Expert	One

General Profile

Minimum Master's Degree in thematic areas with at least 10 years of work experience across multiple States in India. For more details, refer TORs at www.dolr.nic.in. Engaged candidates will be offered a consolidated fee of Rs.1.50 lakh per month depending on the profile. The positions are based in New Delhi. The contract of these positions will be for 9 months. Persons engaged as experts could expect to be associated with the project for the project period depending on the requirement and performance. Interested candidates may send their application to recruitment.dolr@gmail.com. The last day of receiving applications is 17th February, 2013 upto 5.00 PM.

Dated 21.12.2012